WASHINGTON (AP) - President Johnson asked Congress today to raise Social Security benefits by 15 per cent and 59 per cent in the lowest bracket and said such an increase will be "a major step toward our goal that every elderly citizen has an adequate income and a meaningful retirement."

Johnson's proposal, which he said would guarantee minimum benefits of $70 a month for individuals and $105 a month for married couples, also includes a recommendation for increased raising the taxable base and by increasing rates.

The President asked Congress to increase the amount of annual income on which taxes are collected to $7,800 next year, $9,-000 in 1971, and $10,800 in 1974. Revise Tax Rate

He also asked Congress to revise rate increases already scheduled, going from 4.4 to 4.5 per cent in 1969 and from 4.85 per cent in 1973 to 5 per cent. Johnson recommended that the amount Social Security recipients can earn without losing its benefits be increased to $1,-680 a year and that the amount above that for which a beneficiary can retain $1 in payments for each $2 in earnings be increased to $2,880.

The increased benefits had been sketched in broad outline in Johnson's State of the Union message.

Johnson had announced earlier that his proposals would cost $4.1 billion during the first year. The tax rise is expected to come under fire in Congress, especially from Republicans who have urged an 8 per cent increase plus a cost-of-living escalator clause without raising taxes.

The maximum increases under the President's proposals would go to 2.5 million persons now receiving minimum benefits of $44 a month for an individual. But Johnson said inmonthly minimum benefit for a retired couple with 25 years

Comprehensive Personal Liability insurance and a suit is brought against him but he is found not legally liable, does the insurance company still pay all the costs?

ANSWER: Yes and in fact one of the greatest values of liability insurance is the fact that the insurance company will defend all suits brought against the insured person within the coverage of the policy.

hoisted sail on what it expects will be one of its best years and presented trophy awards at the annual dinner meeting of the boatmen held at the Sherman Hotel Sunday night.

The installation of the new officers of the EYC and the awarding of the trophies highlighted the program at which Walter Lewke, retiring commodore, presided. Lewke received praise for his service to the club as its commodore the past two years.

The new commodore is Rene Labre. The other officers and directors are:

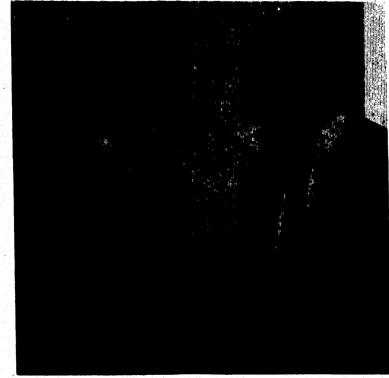

Phil Miron, vice commodore; Mrs. Earl Owen, secretarytreasurer; Don Crawford, Harold "Pat" Gasman, Francis Boyce, Emerson Kidd and Lewke, directors.

Boyce Wins Five Reviewing the past year, Lewke noted that three new craft were added to the local fleet. The owners are David Carter of Marquette, Dr. Francis Anderson and Tony Baudek of Escanaba. The clubhouse was improved and the Venetian Night was successful and attracted thousands of specta-

Five of the several trophies presented at the program were won by Bill Boyce of Escanaba, and because he was unable to be present they were received for him by his sister, Mary Sue Boyce.

Bill Boyce received the Gust Asp Trophy for the first half series and the Bay de Noc Trophy for the second half series in the Seagull Class races. He also won the John J.

Agreement By Nations

The crime of genocide is mass murder. It can be the killing off of a whole people, like Hitler's effort to exterminate the Jews of Germany in World War II, when more than 6 million were killed.

It is inconceivable that any American would defend genocide, or that he would be counted in opposition to it. And yet the United States has refused to sign the convention outlawing genocide which the United Nations adopted 17 years ago.

Our refusal to adopt this human rights convention puts us in the poor company of South Africa and Yemen and a few other nations which are not noted for their humanity.

Presidents Truman. Kennedy and Johnson have all asked for ratification of the United Nations convention on genocide by the U.S. Senate but it has been denied. The proposal has never even emerged from sub-committee.

Because it must muster a two-thirds vote for ratification it would have to enlist the support of senators who are strong for human rights.

We were helpful in originating the U.N. conventions against slavery and against forced labor and for the political rights of women, but we have never ratified them.

There is no international court with jurisdiction in these matters: no enforcement features in these human rights conventions. Some of the new nations have adopted these conventions into their constitutions.

But the U.S. Senate will not make them a part of our American code of justice. Russia has ratified them. Poland ratified the convention for union organization Jui returned to haunt Mao Tse- As Hai Jui had challenged the the play also was proposing the and was found derelict in permitting unionism by the tung and frightened him into emperor 400 years before, now end of people's communes and International Labor Organization. Churches Observe Sunday School Sesquicentennial

The Sesquicentennial year of the American Sunday School Union was observed by churches of the area Sunday with a banquet program at the Cornell Town Hall.

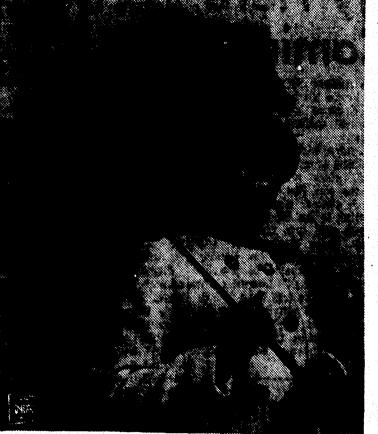

About 150 persons were served by various ladies missionary societies with Cornell Union ladies as hostesses.

Master of ceremonies for the program was Rev. David L. Carlson of Minneapolis, supt. of the Northern district. Rev. Carlson served as field missionary in the Escanaba area from 1942 to 1947. Mrs. Carlson also accompanied her husband.

Rev. Marvin McLean of Chicago, Supt. of the Lakes District, presented a forward look at the ministry of the American Sunday School Union. Rev. Gerald Brady, pastor of the Bethel Evangelical Free Church of Gladstone, main speaker, discussed the ministry of the Sunday School in the community today. Others on the program included Rev. Walter Nordin, pastor of the Bark River Bible Church, Rev. Roma Twist, Berlin, Wis., Rev. Carl Peppiatt, pastor of Hannahville Indian church, and local missionary Lowell M. Fox.

Musical numbers were furnished by James Haga and Edward Berg, as well as some fine Swedish singing. Following the program the Sesquitennial film, "This One's for was shown by Lee Jesus." Cooper. Churches from Gladstone, Escanaba, Marquette, Negaunee, Brampton, Perkins, Watson, Ford River, Bark River, Soo Hill, and Cornell were NOT PRE-SHRUNK This is a major evil in terms of shrinkage. Why this happens is difficult to understand but manufacturers do make up finished garments without bothering to pre-shrink the fabric before cutting. AND FOR THIS YOU DO HAVE A REMEDY. Check the labels. If the fabric has been pre-shrunk the label will say so. In yardage, of course, you can have it pre-shrunk before cutting and avoid trouble.

"It's hard to force them to do that-but it has to be done," the mayor said.

Among the safety specifications the mayor suggested for protection of cab drivers were a bulletproof shield separating the driver and passenger; an automatic device to close all doors from the driver's side and special signal/lights to indicate a problem.

The mayor foresaw "quite a struggle" with the industry, but when you PAY by check There is no doubt about it — pay bills by check and you take the guess work out of family management. The kind of checking account to have is the kind you get by visiting the First National Bank of Escanaba. Two banking locations at which you can stop, two kinds of checking accounts from which you can choose. Banking is pretty easy and keeping your thumb on your family budget is no problem either — if first you get one of those money-managing checking accounts at the First National Bank in Escanaba.
